Dinner is always better with friends.

And if you have a blog, thanks in advance for letting your fans know about the Cru Dinner.

We're back for number XXI!

That's right, number XXI because everyone knows crossword people love nothing more than a good Roman numeral.

What: Reserve NOW for the ACPT 2019 Friday Night Cru Dinner

When: Friday, March 22, 2019 from 6 PM to 8 PM

Where: Sam's American Bistro, the hotel restaurant conveniently located on the lobby level of the Stamford Marriott, to the left of the main bar.

This may be the 42^{nt} edition of the ACPT but more importantly, the 21st edition of the ACPT's crown jewel, the Cru Dinner where civility reigns and one can properly prepare oneself for the humiliation that lies ahead.

Yes, Stamford is home base and in a few short weeks, the Cru Dinner will again officially kick off the annual ACPT pilgrimage in the style to which many of us have grown accustomed. For those who are unfamiliar with this annual gathering (part of another more high profile annual gathering), it began in 1999 as an opportunity for crossword obsessives (solvers, constructors, bloggers, lurkers) to break bread prior to the tournament. And the tradition continues.

If this brief overview of the Cru Dinner (below) leaves you wanting more info, please take a look at an interview I did with NY Times Wordplay Blog helmswoman, Deb Amlen in 2013. It's way more information than you need and it probably won't help you in the competition but it may enable first timers may enter with the swagger of a veteran.

Nuts & Bolts Dept.

How Much for 2019?

As you might imagine, creating the Cru Dinner each year is an arduous task necessitating the existence of a massive, hyper-corporate and highly structured management entity. Yet, despite our bloated, top-heavy bureaucracy, we are happy to announce that the price this year will REMAIN a mere $41 per person, including tax and tip. Before entering Sam's Restaurant, you'll sign a form so the dinner can be charged to your room. Anyone attending the dinner but not staying in the hotel can pay in cash and the Marriott will provide you with a receipt if you wish. Or you can make an arrangement to pay a friend and have your meal charged to that friend's room.

Admittance to the Cru Dinner will be by reservation only as the room can accommodate a little over 80 people comfortably. Reservations will be closed at that point. As most regulars know, we generally sell out so if you're planning to be there this March for our 21th iteration, let me know as soon as possible.

The Cru Dinner will be buffet style and as a result of our enormous power and influence, we have once again (gently) commandeered the entire restaurant for our gathering. It is a restaurant so tables and chairs abound, but if you'd like to sit with those you know (up to about 6, okay maybe 8), make those arrangements beforehand and inform me of who's in your group and who the group 'leader' is when you make your individual reservation. Also, we are adjacent to the main bar and once stickered (see below*), you are encouraged to free roam.

*Upon checking in to the dinner on Friday night, you will receive an official name/entrance sticker bearing an uncanny likeness to Mr. Happy Pencil.

We will have a wait staff person (or two) attending to our buffet so that no matter when you arrive between 6 and 8, everything on the menu will be available. Before you leave for the evening's activities, I'll ask everyone in attendance to throw a dollar or two in a tip jar to thank our server for what I expect will once again be excellent service.

Reservations can be made simply by emailing me (alpernm@aol.com)

the (1) number, (2) names, and (3) email addresses of those who will be attending with CRU DINNER in the subject line. If you're part of a group or a group 'leader', let me know that.

And what was your FIRST year at the ACPT?

If this is your first Cru Dinner, please let me know that and include how you learned about it.

All attendees will receive an email confirmation.

As stated above, we are limited to a maximum of about 80 people so please do not wait until the last minute. 2018 was once again a sell out and I anticipate the same this year.

FAQs

What is the "CRU"?

Essentially, anyone who ever contributed in any way to the old NY Times Crossword Puzzle Forum or the many successor venues. It's a big tent and difficult not to qualify.

Do I have to register for the tournament to attend the Cru Dinner?

No, but your dinner must be paid in cash or charged to a room. Please make those room charge arrangements with someone who is registered at the hotel.

If I get held up in traffic and don't arrive until after 7, will I still eat?

Yes. Everything on the menu will be replenished regularly and available for the entire 2 hours.

This is my first tournament and I'm afraid I'll feel out of place at a dinner where everyone knows everyone else.

30-35% of 2019 Cru Dinner attendees will be first timers, a distribution that has traditionally worked best for everyone. Feelings of unease will disappear in 5 minutes. Maybe quicker. Guaranteed! Remember, every veteran was once a rookie.

Will I have time to get to the Friday evening program and wine and cheese reception?

Those venues are just across the lobby. There will be plenty of time. And Will is scheduled to stop in to the Cru Dinner following his Judges' Dinner so when he leaves for the evening's activities, that will be your cue.

What if I have any other questions? Email me: alpernm@aol.com

I look forward to seeing you on March 22. And good luck if you're competing!
